There will also be a large selection of plants and bedding flowers. It will be well worth seeing and everyone should take advantage of it. The festival will open at one o'clock and close at nine.

BURNING PERMITS MAY BE REQUIRED ABOUT MAY 15TH

The attention of householders is directed to the remarks of Fire Chief Mark Tetrault, before the city council Monday night, in which he said that if more rain does not come soon, it will be necessary to establish the burning permit rule for fires within the city about May 15th or May 20.

The matter came up in general discussion of burning following Mr. Tetrault's report that some business houses are burning trash without the safeguard of an incinerator.

Mr. Tetrault said he hopes to contact the firms which are following this practice and invite their compliance with the city regulations.

City Clerk Will Be Tax Collector

The city clerk has been the city tax collector for several years, but the title has fallen on someone else. At Monday night's meeting of the council, an ordinance was introduced legally making the city clerk the tax and license collector. The ordinance will come up at the next regular meeting for final consideration.

MISS MARGUERITE FENNER, well known Home Economist to be at the Sportsman's Shop Thursday, Friday and Saturday, three days this week.

MODEL KITCHEN SHOWING SET

Sportsman's Shop Will Have 3-Day Appliance Exhibit, Demonstration

Don Goodrich of The Sportsman's Shop has completed arrangements for a showing and demonstration of G. E. Home Appliances, at his store in the Masonic temple building, for three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 9, 10 and 11.

Miss Marguerite Fenner, widely known home economist, will have charge of the demonstration and will prepare the cooked food, explain the art of refrigeration cooking, the ease of home laundering, and in general tell and demonstrate the advantages of modern electric home appliances.

In explaining the home appliance set-up, Mr. Goodrich says: "We are going to turn the whole front part of our store into a model electric kitchen. Electric ranges, refrigerators, washers, ironers, water heaters, roasters, toasters, coffee makers and waffle irons, are among the host of new G-E products that will be shown and demonstrated. Every person attending and registering will receive a lovely gift and in addition an appropriate door prize will be given each day. The exhibit is free and all homemakers of the country are most cordially invited to attend, which will entail no obligation whatsoever."

CITY JUDGE QUIZZED ON FINE FOR DRIVING WITHOUT LICENSE

When the report of City Judge Eugene Creed was read before the council Monday night, the itemized accounting for the $44.50 in fines collected during the month of April included one of $5 for driving without a license.

Councilman Howard Lewis inquired of Judge Creed whether the defendant had a license but didn't have it with him, or whether he had no license at all.

Judge Creed replied that the latter was the case and Lewis said he felt the fine was too light for such a violation although it might be satisfactory in an instance in which a driver had left his license at home.

Judge Creed said he could make the fine as severe as the council wished, but that the amount levied was comparable to that assessed for the same infraction at Sacramento. This ended the discussion.

Certain Bonds Of City Officials Approved

Bonds of Chief of Police Ralph Jones, in the amount of $2,000; and Treasurer Guy E. Wentworth, in the amount of $5,000 were approved by the city council Monday night.

City Clerk Harold Duden had obtained two bonds, one for $3,000 and one for $2,000 making a total of $5,000. The $2,000 bond was rejected by the council and Mr. Duden said he would immediately take steps to obtain a bond with a concern acceptable to the council.

Works Superintendent Russell Anderson will supply a $1,000 bond.

City Clerk Harold Duden now has a $100 revolving fund to assist in operation of city affairs. Since his induction into office Mr. Duden had been "financing the city" from his own pocket. The previous city clerk had such a fund but the council did not, until Monday night, authorize Mr. Duden to set up a revolving fund.

THIRD TERM IS VOTE ISSUE

Thirty-Five Per Cent
Vote Is Expected
Throughout State

A survey of some Placerville election precincts shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon indicated that the total vote cast will be approximately thirty-five per cent of the registration for the county seat.

THIRD TERM TEST
SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—California voters today name their delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions, with a third term for President Roosevelt the decisive issue in a four way split of the Democratic party ranks.

The Republicans have a single slate on the ballot, unopposed and nominally pledged to Jerrold L. Seawell, president pro tem of the state senate. Lacking a contest, the Republicans were expected to get out little more than 35 per cent of their 1,308,211 registered vote.

The election is regarded as the first primary test of Roosevelt sentiment in the far west, and Gov. Culbert L. Olson, heading the pro-Roosevelt forces, predicted victory by a margin of 2 to 1 over the other three tickets.

The second Democratic ticket, and regarded as the chief opposition to the Roosevelt delegation, is pledged to Vice President John N. Garner, who captured the California Democratic vote in 1932 but released his delegates to Roosevelt at the national convention.

El Doradoans: Are You In Census?

The census enumeration for this district is nearing a conclusion and in the face of reports from several residents that they have not been interviewed by the census takers, the Chamber of Commerce has volunteered to be a headquarters for such reports.

If those who have not been interviewed by the census takers will report to the Chamber of Commerce (Telephone 471) the matter will be called to the attention of the Census Supervisor, whose headquarters are at Roseville.

This co-operation is in the interest of securing the most complete possible census enumeration for El Dorado County.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT HEARING SET FOR WEDNESDAY

A hearing will be held in Superior Court Wednesday morning on a petition for granting the release of Godfrey Glenn, held in the county jail on a charge of petty theft.

Glenn recently pleaded guilty to such a charge in the court of Justice of the Peace Charles Rasmussen, at Lotus, and after being lectured by the court was placed under a thirty-day jail sentence, suspended pending good behavior.

The complaint was by Oulicky Brothers and the theft concerned machinery parts.

Following Glenn's release at Lotus, the complainants said to have been displeased with the conclusion of the case, obtained a new complaint in the court of Justice of the Peace Will G. Taylor, at Shingle, and Glenn was again taken into custody by the sheriff.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed in Superior Court late Monday and the circumstance that Tuesday is a holiday set the hearing on the petition over until Wednesday morning. Glenn's attorney, T. S. Marlor, cited the plea of once in jeopardy and also questioned Justice of the Peace Taylor's jurisdiction in the matter.

Jumbos Best Rangers In Softball Warm-Up

By counting eight tallies in the seventh stanza, Mac's Jumbos triumphed over the Forest Service, 18 to 15, in a practice fray on the Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., field Monday night.

Don Westerman smashed a homer into deep center with three on in the third for the Jumbos.

Wes Gray and Broddy were the battery for the Jumbos while Bill Cummings and G. D. Thorne did the heavy work for the losers.

City Has "Council" But No Trustees

Notice is hereby given that Placerville has a "City Council," not a Board of Trustees; and that crime is suppressed in the community by a "Chief of Police" and not by a Marshall.

This was brought to the attention of the council Monday night by City Attorney Thomas Maul, jabbed at the newspapermen present with his left while he poked at the council with his right.

Mr. Maul said that the "trustees" designation for the council, and the "marshall" designation for the C. of P. was probably a "holdover from the days when Placerville was Hangtown."

The dog-catcher, we understand, is still the dog-catcher.

LIONS HONOR R. WOODWARD

Public Speaking Winner
Guest Of Club; 6 Given
Pins For Attendance

Placerville Lions complimented Robert Woodward Tuesday by having him as their guest at the regular club meeting, held at Hotel Raffles.

Woodward, a senior student at the county high school, was the club's entry in the Lions student public speaking contest and has won the right to compete in the Lions district finals at the coming district convention in June, at San Jose.

Bob addressed the club on the contest subject, "Over Here and Over There," and members of the club noted a marked improvement in his delivery and were much interested to note the progress he has made at speaking in public since his first appearance before the club only a few short weeks ago.

Entertainment for the meeting included the showing of a motion picture provided through the courtesy of the Shell Oil Company. One phase of the picture related to the "screwball drivers" and their influence against traffic safety, and then the picture showed some of the technical side of the petroleum industry.

One hundred per cent attendance pins were presented to six Lions who had not missed a meeting during the thirty-two week attendance contest recently concluded by the club. Those who received pins included Lions Mart, Malm, Hollenbeck, Herrman, Hensley and Allen. Of these, it was noted, Lion Mart is the "dean," having a perfect attendance record for the past two hundred one meetings.

Lion Harry Dunlap was welcomed into the club again. Dr. L. J. Anderson officiating, and as Lion Anderson concluded, Tailtwister H. E. Dillinger moved in on Lion Harry with the exclamation:

"So you think you are a cleaner."

Harry dug up.

COLOMA FARM CENTER HAS HARRY REASIDE AS CHAIRMAN

Harry Reaside, of Lotus, was chosen chairman of the Coloma-Lotus-Gold Hill Farm Center Monday night succeeding Malcolm Veerkamp, who is the new vice-chairman. Mrs. Violet Reaside was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The center heard a discussion by the Farm Advisor on spray problems and there was a general discussion of the subject by the audience. In addition to motion pictures, the entertainment included a one-act play, offered by the Home Economic Club ladies of the Gold Trail Grange.

TAX ON SEWERS ADVOCATED BY COUNCILMAN TO PAY EXTENSION COSTS

Councilman Howard Lewis told the council Monday night that the city needs more revenue and that a tax on sewers or bathrooms would supply money for the city, just as the water charges do.

City Attorney Thomas Maul said Lewis would "stir up a hornet's nest."

City Engineer Wildman suggested that the sewer tax might be based on a percentage of the water use and be more fair than a flat sewer tax.

There was extended discussion during which the other members of the council failed to register any enthusiasm for a sewer tax and near the end of the general talk Councilman Frost re-stated his belief that a re-assessment survey would be in the public interest.

FOUR SLAIN BY SCHOOL HEAD

Classes Dismissed As Board Probes Shootings
By "Mad Principal"

SOUTH PASADENA, (AP)—Verlin Spencer, 37, the "mad school principal" who shot six school officials of this fashionable residential community, laughed today when told that four of them were dead.

"Are only four of them dead?" Spencer asked. It was the first time he was able to talk after regaining consciousness.

"Too bad they all didn't go—and me too," he said.

Then he laughed and lauded into unconsciousness. Meanwhile the board of education closed all schools in the city while Police Chief Frank Higgins and his men attempted to determine when and how the shootings occurred at the South Pasadena high school administration building and later at the South Pasadena junior high school, of which Spencer was principal.

Chief Higgins said the first shooting reported to his office was at the administration building of the high school, about four blocks away from the junior high school.

In the Queen Anne-type brick building, far removed from classrooms, George C. Bush, 64, superintendent of schools and widely known educator; John Alman, 50, principal of the high school; and Will R. Speer, 52, business manager of the school district, were shot down and killed.

Miss Dorothy Talbert, secretary to Bush, was wounded seriously in her office adjacent to the board of education room in the high school administration building.

Spencer then got into his automobile and drove to his own school a few blocks away. The "mad principal" was seen walking down a corridor with his arm on the shoulder of Verner Vanderlip, 35, head of the manual arts department. Later Vanderlip's body was found under some desks stored in an unused room.

3-Year-Old Reads 1st Grade Books

Benjamin Tupper is three years old—he'll be four on June 26—and he is reading first grade books.

Ben is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tupper and his mother is teacher at the Seventh-Day Adventist school at Smith Flat. While his mother teaches and Mr. Tupper works about their farm home, Arlea, 6, looks after her little brother.

Arlea taught herself to read, but she isn't in school yet owing to an eye defect.

But, beginning with an "A, B, C" book, and paper dolls, Ben has learned the alphabet, learned to spell, and gets along remarkably well with a first-grade reader and has read several of them.

LYON IS SPEAKER AS FLAGS ARE GIVEN PLACER COURT

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon was at Auburn Monday evening to make the presentation speech, on behalf of the parlor of Native Sons and Native Daughters at that place, when two flags were presented to the Placer County Superior Court.

The flags, one the National Emblem and the other the Bear Flag, were the gift of the two orders to the court.

Brewer Gains Release On $1,500 Bail

Roy Brewer, who faces a jury trial May 16th on a charge of failure to provide, gained release from jail Monday afternoon by posting $1,500 bail. Brewer, 39, resident at Oroville, gave his occupation as a "writer."

Richfield Oil Depot Ordinance Passed

The ordinance consenting to the establishment of a wholesale oil distributing depot by the Richfield Oil Company, in upper Placerville on North Washington Street near the city limits, was passed at the city council meeting Monday night and will be effective thirty days after publication.

LYON TO HEAD NATIVE SONS

Placerville Man Becomes
Grand President At Annual
Grand Parlor On May 19

SAN FRANCISCO—Anticipating a record attendance of both official delegates and guests, the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West yesterday completed plans for its sixty-third annual convention to be held in Bakersfield May 19 to 23.

The program, according to Grand President, Jesse H. Miller, will be devoted to business sessions and introductions of resolutions during the days of the convention and entertainment for delegates and guests in the evenings. Arrangements for this year's meeting are under the supervision of Bakersfield Parlor No. 42 and Taft Parlor No. 276, which have named the following committee: Carl Luick, chairman; William G. Rea, Jr., secretary; Geo. A. Morris, treasurer.

Spirited contests for election to various offices of the Native Sons was assured when a tentative list of candidates was announced. The office of Grand President, now held by Miller, will automatically go to Henry S. Lyon, district attorney of El Dorado County, and now Grand First Vice President.

Others seeking election are: Edward T. Schnarr, grand first vice president; Lloyd J. Cosgrove, grand second vice president; Wayne R. Millington and Raymond D. Williamson, grand third vice president; John T. Regan, grand secretary; J. A. Corotto, grand treasurer; Walter N. Bailey, grand marshal; George Bruno, grand inside sentinel; for grand trustee, seven to be elected; Walter C. Richards, R. G. Power, Richard P. McCarthy, Walter E. Smith, Louis Bosch, Joseph E. Timney, Eben K. Smart and Conrad Hubner.

FIREWORKS REGULATIONS CALLED TO ATTENTION OF DEALERS, PUBLIC

Well in advance of July 4, Fire Chief Mark Tetrault was before the city council Monday night, calling the council's attention to new state regulations requiring permits from the state fire marshal's office for dealing in fireworks.

Mr. Tetrault has been authorized to issue those permits for Placerville.

This brought up a review of the city regulations concerning fireworks and it was noted that the ordinance bans all fireworks except pistols, caps, sparklers, firecrackers, not over one and one-half inches long and not more than three-sixteenths of an inch in diameter, and ten-ball Roman candles.

The fire chief was asked to issue permits subject to the city ordinance.

Municipal Plunge Given Annual Spring Repair

Mayor Molinari reported to the council Monday night that the city plunge has been getting its annual regaining and repainting. The bath house and the plunge have been repainted and some shade trees have been planted.

Molinari explained that the entrance to the bath house has been re-arranged in the interest of efficiency and convenience.

The city council granted the Foster & Kleiser firm leave to erect four billboards along the highway on lower Main Street, at the meeting Monday night.

CHURCHILL NEW "WAR LORD"

Chamberlain, Jeered By Angry Commoners, Fails
To Give Satisfaction

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Foreign News Editor

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain fought to save his war cabinet today in the face of an angry, unruly attack on the home political front. Political experts believed he might succeed, but only after a severe drubbing.

Nervously addressing a Jeering House of Commons, the 71-year-old prime minister struggled to rebuild prestige lost in the unsuccessful Norwegian campaign by:

1. Announcing the elevation of the veteran Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty and known as an advocate of aggressive action, to the post of surveyor over the armed forces of Great Britain in the war against Germany.

2. Inviting the opposition leaders to join the cabinet for cooperation in mustering "every ounce" of British strength for prosecution of the war—an offer likely to be refused.

3. Warning the people that Adolf Hitler's vast military machine is likely to strike again at any moment and at any place, including the British Isles.

4. Promising that the Allies would fight on with all possible power to aid Norway.

All of the "explanations and excuses" were brushed aside by Chamberlain's most severe critics in the debate that followed his statement and both the prime minister and Churchill were strongly attacked by opposition for complacency and over-optimism.

Webb Miller, veteran United Press war and diplomatic correspondent sitting in the House of Commons, said that the attitude of the members indicated after the speech that the prime minister had failed to carry Commons with him in making his apology for failure of the campaign in central Norway.

Churchill probably will speak tomorrow.

Main Street Plan Grows

City Attorney Reports
On Three Offers Which Are Accepted By Council

The projected widening of Main Street between the Placerville Coca Cola Bottling Works and Clay Street moved ahead Monday night when the city council formally accepted offers of settlement by three owners of property sought to be acquired for widening.

The offers were made in a report submitted by City Attorney Thomas Maul and covered a total of thirty-six square feet offered by Mrs. Etta Kramp for $25; 228 square feet offered by Mrs. John Scherrer for $90; and a tentative offer of the Sigwart owners of 647 square feet for $250.

Mr. Maul had talked with Councilman Greeley but had not been able to interview Captain E. A. Brewster, both of whom are owners along the street. Mr. Greeley had suggested a figure of settlement for his property which was not acceptable to the council.

Councilman Greeley was not at the meeting and Mr. Maul made some mention that Mr. Greeley was feeling miserable as a result of recent dental extractions.

It was noted by the councilmen that the offers of Mrs. Scherrer and the Sigwart owners were in the amount of about forty cents a foot.

Parking Lot Estimates Asked Of Councilmen

Councilmen Joseph Beach and Howard Lewis were appointed a committee Monday night to inquire into the probable cost of establishing a parking lot between Hangtown Creek and the railroad track west of Bedford Avenue.

The city has a lease on the property for $10 per year and has an offer from Mrs. Sarah Rolli Cello to rent a right of way for a bridge across the rear of her property over the creek, for $50 annually.

The committee is to ascertain the probable cost of such a bridge and the probable cost of putting the area in shape for auto parking.

"HIGH PRESSURE STUFF"

CRIMSON WARNING

by RICHARD SALE

© 1936 by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Jane Hall, girl detective, is summoned to the home of Emery Harding on Skeleton Island, off the coast of Maine, to guard his daughter Audrey, whose life has been threatened in a letter, type-written in red, demanding that Harding relinquish a valuable ruby that he bought from an old sea captain, Albert Santrey. He also sends for his friend Bruce Kirby, young scientist. Shortly afterward, Santrey is found murdered on the beach, and then, only an hour or two later, Audrey's fiancé, Frank Bitherbee, finds one of the servants, Drumm, lying dead at the same spot — shot through the head. When Jane and Kirby question Mrs. Drumm, she says that her husband and Santrey had been going off on mysterious trips around the island, and that she thinks they were looking for buried treasure.

CHAPTER XII

"WHERE'S Emery? We'd better tell him," said Kirby. "In the living room," said Bitherbee. "Dr. Toler went upstairs a few minutes ago. Dr. Straater and his wife are out on the side veranda with Mrs. Castian. I don't know where Castian is."

Harding was sitting on a lounge in the living room, smoking a cigar, when they went in. Across the room, Madame LeRoux was attempting to make conversation with Audrey, who did not respond.

Harding rose quickly. "What is it, Bruce? What's the idea of soiling off mysteriously and having Frank hold the rest of us here?" "Drumm's dead," said Kirby bluntly.

The two women inhaled sharp breaths and went taut. "Frank!" cried Audrey. "Now, darling." "How?" asked Harding, his voice trembling. "Shot through the head," said Kirby.

"Suicide?" Harding sounded hopeful. "Murder. The back of the head. Emery. I told you it would not stop with Santrey."

"Good lord, Bruce! What does it mean? Is it all connected with that cursed letter?" Harding was frightened.

"HAVE you a typewriter in the house?" Kirby asked, ignoring his host's question. "Mr. Castian has one," said Audrey, timidly. "I saw him using it yesterday."

"You saw Castian typing yesterday? That's interesting," Kirby turned to Harding. "Look here, Emery—today is Saturday. How long have your various guests been at Skeleton Island?"

"Castian and his wife have been here since Thursday. Dr. Toler came here yesterday afternoon. "How about Straater and his wife?"

"Thursday." "And you, Madame LeRoux?" "Oh, monsieur, I have been here since last week-end!" "And Audrey?"

"Audrey has been here for the last three weeks," said Harding. "I think the place is good for her. Why stay in the stuffy city when you have such a place as this? And Frank comes up a lot, so she does not get lonesome."

"But I was busy in New York this week," Bitherbee hastened to say.

Today's Sport Parade

By Henry McLenore

United Press Staff Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Don't let the Louisville date line on this story surprise you. And don't be surprised if the next 20 stories I write come from here.

Did you ever hear of a horse named Bimelech? I did. I learned about him from my own stories, and being a great admirer of Henry McLenore's newspaper stuff, believed every word I read.

If you are sore at McLenore telling you that Bimelech was unbeatable in the Kentucky Derby, how do you think I feel about him. The rascal was so convincing to me that I can't get out of Louisville. He cost me every cent I have on earth, and just as soon as I finish this I am going to send the following letter to the United Press Association in New York:

"Dear Sirs:
How on earth did you ever hire a horse race writer named McLenore? He couldn't distinguish between a Shetland pony and a Rhode Island Red rooster. For one full week he touted, sang, shouted, and howled the praises of a horse named Bimelech. He said he could run in front, come from behind, go a distance, carry a freight car on his back, and was a mortal clinch to win the Derby? Nuts!

(Sighed) Disgusted Reader."

That's how I feel about the guy. He saw Gallahadion run on the coast and he knew what the horse could do. But I'll take an oath that not once during the DAZE leading up to the Derby did he even mention Gallahadion, except slighting remarks about his ability.

As I said before I can't get out of Louisville.

I haven't any money. Before the field went to the post in the Derby I robbed my money belt, shook the last copper out of my pig bank, and borrowed some money to bet on McLenore's unbeatable Bimelech.

Most of the other newspapermen have left Louisville. But not I. I haven't been able to find a railroad that takes an I. O. U., or an airplane company that will let you work out your passage, or a bus line that welcomes deadheads. This is being written on the side of the highway that leads from Louisville to Cincinnati, and if it reads a bit jerkily that is because I have to lift my head every moment or two to try to thumb a ride.

Lots of autoists stop but, once they hear my name, step on the gas and try to run over me. One elderly couple who was going as far as Harrisburg, Pa., let me in the car and drove about two miles before asking who I was. When I told them, the husband said I had cost him next summer's vacation money by touting Bimelech and that I could take my choice of either getting out or being thrown out. His wife supported his stand by yanking out a long hat pin from her driving veil and waving it at me.

Still there's always consolation to be found. Louisville is a lovely city, and a fellow could live here for 50 years and be happy. It has many spacious parks. It's fire department is modern to the last degree. The average mean temperature is 75 or so, and its rainfall is just as good as the rainfall of any city you can name.

So, if you drop down this way in the next year or two give me a ring. In the meantime bet on Bimelech in the Preakness.

Third Term Is Election Issue

The "Thirty Thursday" pension group. The pensioners last fall rolled up a million votes for their plan, although their organization since has been riddled with dissension.

The fourth group, headed by Lieut. Governor Ellis Patterson, is made up of liberals, left wingers and backed by labor's non partisan league and various CIO organizations. Originally pro-Roosevelt, it since has assailed the President for repealing the arms embargo, permitting sale of planes and munitions, extension of loans and credits to belligerents.

Each party is entitled to 44 delegates to the national conventions.

The Democratic hodge-podge eclipsed any interest in the Republican campaign, which has been designed only to get out the vote.

"BUILDING ORDINANCE" AGAIN PROPOSED IN CITY COUNCIL

The proposal for the establishment of a city building ordinance was brought before the city council again Monday night by Councilman Howard Lewis.

He urged that a survey be made to determine the type of ordinances in effect and the experience in their enforcement in Auburn, Stockton, Oroville and Roseville.

The discussion did not reveal to what extent the proposed ordinance might regulate building practices.

Such a matter was before the city fathers some months ago but was tabled, finally.

Donald Long, cited by Traffic Officer Charles Flick for reckless driving, was found guilty and fined $25 before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

DOUBLE-FEATURE BILL AT EMPIRE FOR TUESDAY ONLY

Another two-feature program is booked for Tuesday only at the Empire with C. Aubrey Smith in "City of Chance," and Ellen Drew, Robert Paige, Judith Barrett, and Louise Beavers in "Women Without Names."

This picture is concerned with the old truism to the effect that bad associates lead to misfortune, and develops that theme in a manner calculated to rank as outstanding entertainment. Choosing a lovely lady as the chief protagonist of the story, it shows how a criminal ex-husband brings misfortunes to her after she has found happiness in the arms of another man.

Wife Preservers

At the inception, Miss Drew meets Robert Paige, falls in love with him, and naturally enough, marries him. Their happiness is short lived, for just as they make ready to depart on their honeymoon, her ex kills a detective in her apartment. The only other witness, a jealous girl friend of her ex, gets away with the murderer.

To add to the young couple's misfortunes, they are prosecuted by an assistant D. A. He secures a conviction for each on the evidence of their presence at the scene of the crime, and they are sentenced—death for the boy and life imprisonment for the girl. The young couple plead their innocence, but their pleas are denied. Into the welter of misfortune comes a ray of light in Judith Barrett, the ex's girl friend. At first she is antagonistic toward Miss Drew, but after much bitterness and hair-pulling, she yields to a panicky conscience, and wants to confess.

Unreasonably, the Assistant D. A. refuses to listen to her confession, but in the long run, a way is found by the young ladies of the big house to make a break, leading to a romantic fadeout.

Carson Road Betterment To Be Considered

At the council meeting Monday evening, Councilman Frost and Russell Anderson, works superintendent, were asked to make a check-up on the need for further improvement of Carson road.

The matter had been brought to the council's attention by a petition presented at the April meeting and Mr. Anderson reported that in response to the petition, some improvement on the road had already been effected.

MOTORISTS ARE SLOW TO GIVE UP THEIR '27 LICENSES

SACRAMENTO—California motorists holding 1927 drivers' licenses are facing long hours waiting in line for new licenses unless there is an increase at once in the number of applicants, it was announced today by Joe Mattson, director of motor vehicles.

Of the more than 400,000 1927 licenses outstanding only 27,000 have applied for new licenses in anticipation of the July 1st date for cancellation, Mattson said.

"With only 48 working days left before July 1 and the many applicants to be examined it appears as if we will have long waiting lines," he said. "The only alternative is for all holders of 1927 licenses to apply as soon as possible at the nearest office of the Department of Motor Vehicles or Highway Patrol."

"There is no charge for the new type license and the examination given is not designed to work hardships on anyone. The law has been changed to provide for periodical renewal of all licenses and this is the first step to eliminate all the 'good until revoked' type and place all drivers on an equal basis. Holders of the 1927 licenses have not been examined for 13 years and in many instances it is possible for the department to point out deficiencies which are helpful in making for safer driving."

Race Track At County Fair Suggested

Opportunity knocks — Placerville has it at her Fair Grounds.

With the smallest effort it can have a race track second to none on this continent.

I do not know of a single spot in America that can start right off the bat with such a wonderful setting.

The Fair Grounds have a beautiful setting — in fact unsurpassed, and the work that is being done there right now can easily be managed so as to make a mile track with little extra expense.

This wonderful opportunity is on a great highway that has 120 automobiles an hour daily in summer—60 each way; and 500 on holidays, also a wealth of gamblers going back and forth to Reno and Lake Tahoe.

What better contribution could El Dorado County give to her distressed taxpayer and to her mother state than this?

—M. J. N.

High Officials Visit Fair

First of a long list of high federal and state officials to visit the Fair in '40 on Treasure Island were Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison, left, and Governor Culbert L. Olson of California. They attended a pre-opening reception given by Marshall Dill, president of the Exposition. Visits by officials will culminate in a tour of the Exposition by President Roosevelt.

George Aradoz is reported getting along satisfactorily at Placerville Sanatorium, where he was operated upon April 29th.

Four Slain By School Head

tion revealed Spencer then went to the classroom of Miss Ruth Sturgeon, art instructress. She was shot through both hands, the bullet piercing her chest. The position of her wounds indicated, Chief Higgins said, that she was not taken by surprise and saw Spencer coming at her with a gun.

Miss Sturgeon and Vanderlip were leaders among the faculty of the junior high school in an attempt to cause the "mad principal's" removal or commitment to an institution for mental cases.

Spencer, an expert marksman who "practiced up" by taking orange packing boxes into the country and firing shots at them, was described by local physicians, who had attended him in the past, as "definitely a mental case."

An application by Barney Wentz for appointment as a city police officer was filed by the council Monday night, there being no vacancy at this time.

Mr. Hill is the father of George F. Hill of El Dorado, and is a former El Dorado county resident, having lived here in 1931.

Dan Immel Bitten By Dog Near School

Dan Immel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Immel, was bitten Tuesday morning, reportedly while delivering papers, by a dog owned by H. P. Brown, on Cottage Street.

The young man was given first aid attention at the school and, when city authorities were notified, was removed to Placerville Sanatorium for professional treatment although the bite was reported as not severe.

When the owner of the dog was advised of the circumstances, he immediately agreed to isolation of the pet, although no infection was suspected, and promptly volunteered to be responsible for any expense in the treatment of the victim. As a precautionary measure, the dog will remain under observation.

Tunnel Road Residents Ask Street Work

According to Euell Y. Gray, the members of the two orders will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall at 10:30 o'clock and will proceed in a body to the church building in time to reach the church by 10:55 o'clock.

Hiccoughs Continue For Chas. E. Hand

The hiccoughing which made Charles E. Hand a patient at the Sanatorium on Sunday, continued on Tuesday up to noon without indication of abatement.

At about that hour, Mr. Hand was given a sedative and was able to gain some rest, although whether the spasms would be continued after the sedative wore off was not known.

Dr. Joseph Polheim, Mr. Hand's brother-in-law, was here Monday evening from San Francisco in consultation with Dr. W. A. Reckers on the case. He returned to San Francisco later in the evening.

Mrs. Polheim, the former Mabel Gilmore, Mrs. Hand's sister, will remain here for a few days.

WESTERLY HIGHWAY APPROACH MAY BE ZONED FOR BUSINESS

Mrs. Fannie Keller was before the city council Monday night inquiring concerning what action had been taken in response to a request that the district on the right hand side of the highway west of the railroad tracks at the westerly city limits be zoned for business rather than for residences.

It developed that the matter had made no progress, probably as a result of the other matters arising in connection with the recent change in city administrations.

Mrs. Keller was asked by the council to submit the boundaries of the district proposed to be rezoned, for consideration at a future meeting.

Union Oil Station For Ivy Motel Lot

In adjourning Monday night, the city council set May 20th as its next meeting date, but will be unlikely to meet at that time unless some matter of special importance arises. The adjournment to the May 20th date is to eliminate the need for a call for a special meeting should a meeting later in the month be necessary.

The James P. Morton family is on a vacation visit to Portland, Oregon.

Committee Of Three On Junior Hall Named

Mayor Charles Molinari at the city council meeting Monday night named Chief of Police Ralph Jones and himself to serve with E. W. Zueger, Boy Scout commissioner, as a committee of three on administration of the Junior Community Hall at the city playground.
